TWO YOUNG MEN MEET VIOLENT DEATH NEAR BAY ST. LOUIS SATURDAY

Benjamin Starita, Jr., and Carl Rieger Traveling on Motorcycle Which Collides With Parked Auto on Highway 90—Misses Zingaring, Seated in Parked Car, Turned Over, Escape Serious Injury.

An accident occurring on Highway 90 just before Holly's Club on last Saturday night claimed the lives of two young men and slight injury to two young women who were returning to their home near Bayou La Croix.

Benjamin Starita, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Starita Sr., of this city was riding with Carl Rieger, twenty-two year old youth from Baltimore, Md., on a motorcycle on the highway when the motorcycle crashed into the rear of an automobile owned by Roy Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Strong of this city, who had walked ahead to Holly's to endeavor to secure gasoline. Seated in the car were Miss Eva and Miss Velma Zingaring who were returning to their home. The collision caused the automobile to be thrown from the road down a steep embankment and it is considered miraculous that the occupants escaped without serious injuries. The motorcycle however was thrown a great distance and its two occupants each thrown far from the scene of the collision, the terrible impact causing almost instant death for Carl Rieger and rendering Benjamin Starita unconscious. Both riders received terrible injuries, Starita succumbing to his injuries and dying on the operating table in the local King's Daughters' Hospital a short time after being received at the hospital.

The accident occurred about 11:45 P. M. and riding just behind, Emilio Cue conveyed the dying Starita and the Misses Zingaring to the hospital in his car.

Carl Rieger was an employee of the American Sheet Metal Works in New Orleans and had visited here in the home of Julius Schwall. Local authorities wired his parents in Baltimore.

Benjamin Starita was a freshman at Bay High School and a very likable boy among his school mates and teachers. He was an outstanding player on the Bay High School football team and was active in all school activities. He resided with his parents at Second street and de Montluzin avenue. The body was prepared for burial and laid out in the Fahey Funeral Home on Union street and services were held from the home and with religious services from Our Lady of the Gulf Church, at 9 A. M. on Monday, with interment in St. Mary's cemetery, with Father Leo Fahey, officiating.

Pallbearers serving were members of the football squad from Bay High School. A number of beautiful floral offerings from different school groups among the many received were banked against the casket and on the grave.

The tragedy shocked the community because of the youth of the boys and the horror of it.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Starita, Sr. and three brothers, Louis L. Lawrence S. and Salvador M. of Bay St. Louis, and four sisters, Mrs. Josephine Blue of New Orleans and, Laura, Ann and Joy Frances of Bay St. Louis.

The Misses Zingaring were permitted to leave the hospital after a short time and remained with friends in Bay St. Louis for the night, returning to their home on Sunday.

Mr. Strong is an employee of the Southern Bell Telephone Company of Louisiana and had been visiting with his parents at their home on Washington street over the weekend. His car was completely demolished, and the motorcycle of Carl Rieger was also demolished.

Pall bearers were: Sylvester Pagano, Bert Capdepon, Fred Capdepon, Theodore Thomas, Willis Rhodes, and Mark Carmichael.

Also that not only do books offer peace and comfort in a war torn world; they are the foundation for the educated citizenry which is so vital in a democracy, and the cheap entertainment and most lasting pleasure for no matter how hard the business world becomes or what financial crisis may confront us, good books serve as a panacea for all ills."

Hospital For Crippled.

At the regular meeting of Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, held Wednesday at Reed Hotel, to which there were twenty members present, Lucien M. The hospital is the only one of its kind in this country since it renders all aid to adults free of charge. Its mission is to make the lame walk and to restore to unfortunate the use of all limbs, in order they may become useful and active members of the society of men and women. There is no cause more worthy. And the opinion is expressed the Thanks-giving ball will be a financial success.

A vote was taken and the association contributed their pro-rated amount and it is believed that many benefits will be derived. In addition it is a penitentiary offense and might prove the cause of serious accident, possibly the loss of life.

Parties who might know of the depredators are requested to report to the city authorities.

lege Monday Afternoon—Event to Take Place December 4—King to Be Voted For in Spirited Contest.

At a very lively meeting of ladies assisting in the planning of the Harvest Ball, Monday afternoon at St. Stanislaus, various plans were adopted to make the ball one of great interest and entertainment. Committees were also named.

The Harvest Ball will be held on the night of Wednesday, December 4. Several contestants are vying for the honor of the kingship. These are Felix Blanchard, A. G. Favre, and Thomas Kleinpeter, and their supporters are working hard to put each one in the running.

One regulation was passed that all the maids should be clad in white dresses. These would be more in keeping with the tentative plans for the theme to be carried out. Mrs. Theo Tudury was appointed consultant to the maids, and she will be assisted by her daughter, Miss Dorothy Tudury. Girls who expect to be maids should get in touch with Mrs. Tudury as soon as possible.

The decorations will be in the hands of the following committee: Mrs. J. H. Bonck, chairman, Mesdames J. W. Bryan, F. R. Curran, Theo Tudury, Edmund F. Fahey, E. C. Carrere, Chas. G. Moreau, L. S. Elliott, F. J. Bopp, Claude Monti, E. J. Arceneaux, A. G. Favre, and Alice C. Buckley.

CARL MARSHALL OF BAY ST. LOUIS IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

At Armistice Day Observance in Hancock County—Says
We Should Profit by Experience of European Countries In Conflict at Present—Wants Constitution Amended.

Armistice Day was celebrated in Bay St. Louis on Monday, November 11th with the closing of the banks and most of the business firms. The schools also were closed.

Rain which began falling early in the morning and which became a downpour just about the time of the formation of the parade which had been planned to form and march through the main streets of the city precluded any possibility of the different civic organizations, American Legionnaires, scout troops and various other school organizations and bands from here to parade such as had been planned by the American Legion.

However, a fitting program was held in Central High School when the Rev. A. J. Boyles gave the invocation and a splendid address was made by Honorable Carl Marshall, and Rev. Father Leo F. Fahey gave the benediction.

Mr. Marshall, always an interesting speaker, said in part that we should profit by the experiences of the European countries at present in conflict and lauded the gigantic defense program presently taking place in the United States. He stated that though he thought it was time for an amendment to our constitution in order to safeguard our country from totalitarianism.

FOR A FULLER LIFE AND BETTER COMMUNITY.

WE owe a great deal to our local football teams and other organizations that from season to season, and from time to time, keep us imbued with the spirit such as is born of enthusiasm for football and other athletic endeavors on the part of our students.

St. Stanislaus and Bay High have feted our people and visitors time and again, the bands of both schools have contributed immeasurably to our pleasure and added to the success of many entertainments by their excellent music, and to these organizations and other clubs, and groups we owe a great deal. And the annual Harvest Ball is a social event eagerly looked forward to.

It will be Thanksgiving next week and again the bells of Christmas-tide will resound over the land.

Bro. Peter's annual Christmas tree for the poor children regardless of creed and color, will again brighten the calendar of holiday events and it will indeed be a privilege to contribute to this cause. We know of no bigger and better cause at this time and it might be well we start diverting our minds to thoughts in this channel.

Life would indeed be dull minus these subjects. We are kept busy with the things that go to make not only for a fuller life but a better community in which to live.

HOTEL MEN TO ADVERTISE STATE.

MANAGER Spenser of Hotel Walthall was principal speaker in Bay St. Louis Wednesday night when the Association of Gulf Coast Hotels met in monthly banquet and meeting. The keynote of his address was a plea for a state-wide advertising campaign for the State of Mississippi, not only that hotels may benefit thereby since many tourists would be attracted this way but the commonwealth in general would be gainers to incalculable extent.

Mississippi, particularly the Gulf Coast, is one of the high spots of the country for tourists and others to visit and the pity is so little is comparatively known relative to this section. The Governor Johnson administration abolished the Mississippi Advertising Commission that, after a comparatively short time, was beginning to bear fruit.

Mississippi and the Gulf Coast are in need of publicity. And plenty of it. There are so many things here to advertise, to attract and interest the various people—to the visitor, the passing tourist and last but not least the home-seeker. Our Coast is in need of continued advertising. The State Commission had begun telling work, but, like all great enterprises, it required time for the seed planted to germinate.

The hotel men, we are informed, plan to raise private funds and to advertise the State and its hotels, to bring people hither. There are hundreds of thousands of people who travel annually, particularly in winter, who know not where to go. Their plans are indefinite and the proper literature, properly presented would have the desired effect.

We commend the Mississippi hotel people and their association and hope their plans will mature and produce the desired results.

THREE YEARS TO THINK.

WE see by the newspapers that a man in Louisiana has been sentenced to three years in prison for refusing to register under the Selective Service Act.

The man says that the preamble to the Constitution does not give the government the right to deprive him of his "right of free liberty." Moreover, he avers, "there is nothing in America worth fighting for."

During the service of his sentence he will probably learn a little bit about the Constitution and he might even conclude that there is something worth fighting for in this country.

THE FRENCH WERE ADVISED.

THERE has been an effort in this country to create the impression that the United States "encouraged" French resistance to Germany and then refused to extend any assistance.

Ambassador Bullitt recently made public a letter which Prime Minister Daladier, of France, wrote President Roosevelt, in April, of this year, saying: "I feel I should tell you that during the past two years, when I was Prime Minister, Ambassador Bullitt always said to me that in case of a European conflict, France should make her decisions knowing that, according to the opinion of Ambassador Bullitt, the United States of America would not enter the war."

MISSISSIPPI THANKSGIVING NOV. 21.

THIRTY-TWO States will celebrate Thanksgiving on the date designated by the President—Thursday, November 21. The other sixteen will stand by the traditional date, the last Thursday in November. Mississippi will go with the majority, the legislature having passed a resolution directing the governor to name the day designated by the president as Thanksgiving. 75 years ago President Andrew Johnson set the first Thursday in December as the day of national Thanksgiving.

Acting Governor Dennis Murphree has issued proclamation in conformity with the date of November 21 as Mississippi's official Thanksgiving.

YOUTH MEETS DEATH ON THE HIGHWAY.

DEATH is sad on any and all occasions. The shadows deepen, however, when youth in all the glorious aspect of the future at hand, faces the end in tragedy.

Saturday night's occurrence, when two young men met death in highway accident, near Bay St. Louis, cast a gloom over the community and its palling effect lingers. It will live to the end of time in the hearts and minds of the respective families concerned.

The toll of the highway, regardless of innumerable precaution—thrown around in protective measure and with one intent of guarding life, seems to augment rather than diminish as time goes on.

The ratio flares up from time to time. Seemingly for a while there is a respite from fate, call it that if you will, and the subject is forgotten, but not until we learn of some terrible accident where one or more lives are unnecessarily forfeited. The subject revives and the usual expressions of mingled sympathy and horror and the customary comment and renewal of caution again comes into play.

We cannot offer any remedy for these things not to occur again. The thought is ghastly when we contemplate that one year's automobile accident toll exceeds the number of men America lost in the world war. Highway departments are ever solicitous and seem to never relax in their constant surveillance for the public safety.

This accident we cannot ascribe to any possible negligence of any one. The men are gone and their lips are sealed for all time.

The tragedy is terrible to contemplate. And, if words in time like this mean anything to the bereaved, we can only offer words of sympathy the condolence that is found in spiritual contemplation.

Added to highway hazards are: Cars parked on the roadsides, motorcycles running at high speed. Speed is dangerous under all conditions and at all times.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS ARMISTICE DAY.

PRESIDENT Roosevelt voiced faith in an Armistice Day speech Monday at Arlington that Democracy would survive and predicted that the people under the "iron heels" of modern dictators or modern oligarchs would "rebel."

"I, for one," Mr. Roosevelt said, in a speech broadcast from Arlington National cemetery, "do not believe that the era of Democracy in human affairs can or will be snuffed out in our lifetime. I, for one, do not believe that mere force will be successful in sterilizing the seeds which had taken such firm root as a harbinger of better lives for mankind."

"I, for one, do not believe that the world will revert either to a modern form of ancient slavery or to controls vested in modern feudalism or modern emperors or modern dictators or modern oligarchs in these days. The very people under their iron heels will, themselves, rebel."

Standing in an amphitheatre near the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the president denounced "unpatriotic efforts" which he said had been made by some Americans since the World War "to make us believe that the sacrifices made by our own nation were wholly in vain."

In 1914, he said, a definite effort had been made "in a part of the world" to destroy Democracy. The effort was designed, Mr. Roosevelt continued to substitute for it the doctrine that might makes right.

"The attempt failed 22 years ago today."

A CALL TO HANCOCK COUNTY FOR HUMANITY.

IN spite of numerous calls made upon our people from time to time, there should be no restraint, no hesitancy in providing for the Red Cross membership roll call in Hancock county.

The fact this call is made annually has possibly become with many a sort of stereotyped affair and an unpardonable lethargy prevails. The reasoning process, so unconsciously made, let the other fellow do it, is a faulty conception of the mind when it comes to the duty facing every healthy-minded and rightly-positioned heart.

The Red Cross is the greatest human agency in the world. To treat the matter negligently brings only one conclusion, that the people are unconcerned and indifferent. Not until disaster strikes home then do we realize the great work carried on by this world-wide recognized agency administering in the spirit of mercy. The Sea Coast Echo commends the workers in the cause. They should receive the fullest co-operation and we have reason to believe that will be forthcoming.

The import of this article, however, is not only to contribute, to do one's duty, but to do it NOW. Many a dollar is uselessly spent. Don't begrudge one for this cause.

OCTOBER 1ST DELIVERY.

LATE last Spring the people of South America were begged to buy German goods and were given contracts calling for delivery on October 1.

Nobody knew whether the Nazis expected the war to end by that time or whether they were just putting out some propaganda. Anyway, it seems that some South Americans bought some German goods for October 1st delivery.

Last week the financial pages said that Germany had suffered severely in Latin America through her failure to deliver the goods according to contract. The failure has convinced the Latin Americans that the boast that Great Britain would be defeated by Sept. 1st was nothing but bombast and they are becoming wary of other German propaganda.

Trade circles in the United States have noted that German purchases in this country have been resorted to in an effort to fill the orders taken in Latin America. Many American business concerns, it is said, refused to fill German orders, which specified "unbranded goods."

The duck and goose hunting season opened in Mississippi on November 2nd. This is two weeks earlier than usual. The possum season opens November 15.

Hollywood Echoes.

WHILE several other studios haggled over the price to be paid, Paramount secured the film rights to Ernest Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls" which will cost them $150,000, the highest price yet to be paid for a novel in Hollywood.

This $150,000 greatly exceeds the $52,000 paid for film rights to "Gone With the Wind," or the $100,000 paid Edna Ferber for "Cimarron," or the $105,000 paid Fannie Hurst for "Great Expectations." However, much more has been paid for film rights to successful Broadway plays.

Robert Montgomery has pacified the industry after making some cutting remarks while in New York and has gone to work on "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," in which he is appearing with Carole Lombard.

The Powell-Loy team is evidently to continue for sometime yet, to the delight of their fans. Metro recently announced that they will be together in "Married Bachelor" which will be filmed following "Mr. Co-Ed," which is next on the Powell-Loy schedule.

The movies are doing their bit to help national defense by giving inspiration and information. Recently, "20,000 Men a Year," a film based upon the Government's new training program for pilots and "Young America Flies," were produced. Other studios are making "Flight Command," "Eyes of the Navy," "50,000 Flyers," "Wings of Steel," and "I Wanted Wings."

Jenifer Gray, brunette of North Platte, Nebraska, a newcomer, got a big chance recently when she was selected to play the wife of Fred MacMurray in "Virginia." However, Miss Gray will not be seen alive on the screen at any time—only her picture and her coffin will appear.

Spencer Tracy is at work on the long-talked-of sequel to "Boys Town." The new picture is titled, "Men of Boys Town."

When Martha Scott finishes her work in "Cheers for Miss Bishop," she will return to New York and the stage.

Jack Benny's new contract with Paramount gives him "in excess of $1,000,000 a picture" and provides that his picture-making will not conflict with his broadcasting season which runs from October 1 to June. His most recent picture was with Fred Allen in "Love Thy Neighbor," which will be released during Christmas week.

In order not to conflict with the Frank Morgan's working hours, John Barrymore and Richard Bennett called on Morgan at 3 a. m. and

Meeting Defense Communication Needs Today and Tomorrow

To be prepared for emergencies of whatever magnitude or urgency is a requirement to which telephone company workers are accustomed.

The National Defense Program is a new emergency to meet. New switchboards are being installed, several thousand miles of telephone lines have been strung and large scale telephone engineering projects are under way to serve the fifty newly approved and existing army and navy posts and air bases located in the territory served by this Company.

Long distance communication facilities are also being expanded and new circuits have been established to assure ample long distance telephone service between these military bases and all parts of the nation. Southern Bell and the entire Bell System are in high gear, meeting the nation's present defense needs and prepared to adequately meet those of tomorrow.

concluded the visit at 9 a. m., just in time for Morgan to report to work on the set.

Sylvia Sidney has left her farm in New Jersey to make a picture in Hollywood—her first in four years—because she wants some money. The length of her stay, however, depends on her husband (Luther Aded) and the kind of pictures she gets.

We doubt if the MGM official who dropped Deanna Durbin's option four years ago, with the words: "We've got enough $50-a-week singers around the place as it is," can forget the mistake he made. We wonder if Fox hasn't made the same mistake with Shirley Temple? Only time can tell.

Bay High Tigers Down Rugby 20-0; Students and Alumni Attend Dance

Miss Lucy Weston, head cheerleader of Bay High for three years reigned as queen of the annual homecoming, celebrated by the Bay High students, faculty and alumni, on Friday, November 1.

The main event of the day was the football game between Bay High and Rugby of New Orleans, held at the St. Stanislaus stadium.

In the first quarter of the game the Bay High Tigers made their first touchdown and finished the game with a score of 26-0. The crowd, though not as large as for some of the previous games, was much larger than that of last year's homecoming.

During the half the band marched, played, and made several formations. After the playing and singing of the Alma Mater by the spectators, the queen was escorted from her seat on the sidelines out into the field by Preston LeBreton, president of the Senior Class. There she was met by Willis Rhodes, chosen captain of the Bay High football team, after five years of active playing, who presented her with her bouquet.

Lucy was dressed in dusty beige with black shoes and turban, and her bouquet of bright yellow chrysanthemums tied with royal blue satin ribbon carried out the Bay High colors of blue and gold.

Immediately following the game many students and alumni attended the homecoming dance, which was held in the Bay High gym, and sponsored by the Boosters Club.

All of the meetings, debates are being held on all the state subjects. Next week's program will consist of two debates, with Rose Ann Moore, Ethel Farrell, Lucy Weston, Martha Chapman, Preston LeBreton, and Charles Murphy participating.

Try outs are to be held the week before Christmas holidays.

At the try outs, as last year, a double team will be chosen. It was because of this double team, which Miss Givens originated, that Bay High was able to fill a position on the main team left vacant by the illness of Dorothy Arendale and to reach the District and State Debates.
